

Code of Conduct of a Member of the European Chamber of Mutual Cooperation

1. Respect for the principles of cooperation

Each member undertakes to respect the principles of mutual cooperation, support and solidarity with other members of the Chamber.

2. Open and honest communication

Members commit to open, transparent and honest communication with other members and Chamber as a whole.

3. Support for development and innovation

Members are actively involved in supporting development, innovation and business expansion in European markets, sharing relevant knowledge and experience.

4. Individual approach and flexibility

Members commit to providing services and support that are tailored to the specific needs and goals of other members.

5. Support for education and youth

Members are committed to supporting educational initiatives and actively working with schools and youth to support future generations of entrepreneurs and professionals.

6. Compliance with legal and ethical standards

Members are committed to upholding all relevant legal and ethical standards in their area of operation.

7. Active participation in chamber events

Members are encouraged to actively participate in events and initiatives organised by the Chamber promote networking and network development.

8. Mutual support and synergy

Members are committed to seeking and promoting synergies between their projects and activities in order to support each other and add value.

9. Responsibility for the common good

Each member agrees to act in a manner that promotes the common good and interests of the Chamber and its members, beyond personal interests.

10. Inspiration and knowledge sharing

Members are committed to sharing knowledge, experience and best practices to inspire other members and contribute to the overall development of the community.

This Code of Conduct serves as a foundation for building a strong, sustainable and ethically responsible community of professionals and entrepreneurs who strive to grow and succeed together in European markets.